About Kosciusko Leadership Academy

To help Kosciusko-area residents learn more about the community, the Kosciusko Leadership Academy (KLA) conducts sessions each year that give students access to the frontline leaders in the community. Critical community issues such as county and state government, health care, education, agriculture, business and entrepreneurship are thoroughly discussed and examined.

The KLA experience culminates with a white paper project. Students form teams and research relevant community issues and needs. Class members propose workable solutions in a forum of peers and community leaders.
